A PHYSICIAN'S SUPPOSED SUICIDE.

A PHYSICIAN'S SUPPOSED SUICIDE.

Coroner Brady was called upon yesterday to investigate the death of Dr. Ambrose Goetz, age forty, a Russian physician, who was believed to have committed suicide recently in the boardinghouse at No. 23 Second-ave. Mrs. McManus, the keeper of the boarding-house, discovered the body of Dr. Goetz lying at the foot of the flight of stairs leading to the basement, when she went down to kindle a fire in the kitchen range early in the morning. The body was then quite cold. There were no marks of violence discernable, and it was impossible to determine the cause of death by a superficial exam nation. As the doctor had been despondent and had spoken several times of a balf formed resolution to commit suicide, it was supposed that he had joisoned himself in the night. It was known to his friends that it had been his habit to carry peison about with him. To a few of his friends he had told the troubles which made his life in this country one of sadness.

Dr. Goetz was born and educated in St. Petersburg. Russia, and he was graduated as a physician there in 1870. His fanuly was one of the richest in the Russian capital, and he moved in the highest social circles. Like many of the aristocratic Russians he became a good linguist and was able to converse in the English, French, German and Italian languages. Soon after he was admitted to the practice of medicinc he was appointed physician to the Russian embassy in Japan. He spent a few years there, and he learned the Japanese language. On his return to St. Petersburg he married the daughter of a wealthy merchant. He acquired a good practice and added grea ly to his wealth and influence. He became, however, a warm advocate of liberal points along his wealthy merchant. He acquired a good practice and added grea ly to his wealth and influence. THE NEWARK BANK TROUBLES.

District-Attorney Keasbey, of Newark, started for Washington on the 10 o'clock train last night. Before starting he told a Tribung reporter that he would be represented at the examination in the case of Baldwin before the United States Commissioner this morning by his assistant. The examination would be confined to the investigation of the books and papers of Martin & Runyon, stock brokers of this city, who had been subpensed to produce them, and then an adjournment would be asked for one week. It was necessary that a preliminary examination of these books and papers should be made in order to proceed with the examination of Baldwin. It is not probable that Baldwin will be present at the examination.

Nearly all the pas ors of Newark churches made allusion, in their discourses yesterday, to the rain of the Mechanics' Bank and the downfall of the cashier.

the Mechanics' Bank and the downant of cashier.

It has been stated that seven years ago Baldwin was offered the position of cashier of the Mutnal Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, which offer he declined when the Mechanics' Bank raised his salary. It is now stated that a year ago the Third National Bank of New-York wanted a cashier. The name of Baldwin was proposed to the board of directors, and as most of the bank officers knew Baldwin and regarded him favorably, a committee was appointed as a necessary preliminary to consider his qualifications with those of other men proposed for the position. As a result of the aquiries made by the committee a report was adopted, and against Buddwin's name stood the words: "Too much outside business."

against Eddwin's name stood the words: "Too much outside business."

When Receiver Frelinghuysen was informed by 6x-Judge Tese, counsel for Christopher Nagent, that he had instructed his client to refuse the proposition made by the receiver to turn his property over to a third person while the books of the concern were being examined, he instructed United States District-Attorney Keasbey to apply for an injunction and a receiver. The District-Attorney drew up the papers. Judge Nixon granted an order against Nugent & Co. to show cause at Trenton, on November 22, why the injunction should not be issued and a receiver appointed. A temporary injunction to prevent the concern from transferring or disposing of its property was granted.

ASKING HELP FOR POOR CHILDREN.

According to its second annual report, the Temporary Home for Protestant Children at Pleasantville, Westchester County, is in a flourishing condition and doing a good work. It was founded on February 12, 1880, and it has undertaken to solve some of the most difficult problems in social science. One of these is how to elevate the character of report and vicious children. Another is how to and victors children pauper and vicious children. Another is how to put them in the way, at an early period of life, of becoming good citizens.

A cardinal principle of the society is that the life of a child in any charitable institution is necessarily abnormal, and that its interest requires that it shall be found a piace as soon as possible in a family where it may be brought under catural conditions. In the last year 62 children were received at the Home and 63 were discharged. Thirty-four of the latter were placed in homes, 28 returned to their parents, and one was adopted. The present number of inmates is 421, of which 40 are between the ages of two and eight. While in the Home an effort is made to teach the children to be industrious and self-reliant.

The treasurer's report shows that the income last

The treasurer's report shows that the income last year was $4,029.77 and the expenses were $4,537.34.

Of the income $3,644.51 was received from the superintendents of the poor; $319.80 was contributed; and $65.46 was received from various courses. As the contract with the superintendents of the poor is that each child shall cost only $78. the managers are anxious to receive additional help from the public; otherwise the treasury will so use exhausted. The executive committee includes Charles Butler, Scarsdale; Mrs. Francis Vincent, Tarrytown; Roswell Skeel, Irvington; Miss K. L. Patierson, Briar Cluff; Mrs. H. W. Cowdin, and Mrs. Richard M. ## SAVED FROM A WRECK.

Antonio Criscualo, an Italian, stood on the deck of the Portuguese ship Marianna V., yesterday, the only survivor of a crew of twelve persons who sailed from Catania for this port in the Italian bark Rosina, on September 7. The Rosina had a cargo of suiphur and ream. Criscualo yesterday gave a few details of his experience, but did not talk freely. He speaks no English. A terrific hurricane on October 21 was followed by a violent sea which swept the decks fore and aft. The vessel became unmanageable. Criscualo went below to fasten some of the cabin furniture, and when he came on deck again be found that Captain Porcella and all of the others (ten persons) had been swept overboard and drowned. Finding it impossible to manage the ship alone, he gave his attention to keeping the vessel affoat by working at the pumps. For seven days and nights he remained on deck, scanning the horizon in hopes of being rescued by a passing vessel, and working at the pumps. The storm continuing without abatement, the wretened man had given up hope when the Marianna V. was sighted on October 28 and he was saved.

UNION OF CUTTERS IN TWO CIFIES.

A meeting of the Clothing Cutters' Protective Union was held yesterday at Coburger Hall, in Stanton-st. August Ernst, the president of the organization, said that the object of the meeting was to consolidate the clothing cutters of Brooklyn and this city in one union, by which their strength would be augmented, and the ability to control the rates of their wages would be greater. A delegation from the Brooklyn cutters was present, and the preliminary measures of the proposed union were discussed. Robert Blissert then made one of his characteristic addresses in favor of trade-union principles, and urged the clothing cutters to avail themselves of every means of strengthening their union, and to insist upon receiving equitable rates union, and to insist upon receiving equitable rates of wages from all employers.

CROPS ON LONG ISLAND.

The rainfall of the past week thoroughly saturated the ground, and will help the turnip crop where it has not been eaten by the worms. With a few days' mild weather carrots will increase in size, and spinach and spronts grow rapidly, and the wheat and rye will be large enough to withstand the winter frosts. Last week the markets were dull, with a downward tendency. Long Island potatoes, being the best in market, brought from $3 to the state seed in the

THE BALL THIS EVENING.

PROGRAMME OF FORMALITIES-PRECEDENCE OF THE GUESTS-ARRANGEMENTS AT THE CASINO. As has already been announced a ball will be given this evening to the French and German guests at the Metropolitan Casmo, at Forty-first-st, and Broadway, under the auspices of the New-York State Reception Commission. commissioners and managers. At 11:30 the ball will be opened with a state quadrille, in which the Governor and Mrs. Cornell, M. Outrey (the French Minister) and Madame Outrey, the Marquis and Marquise de Rochambeau, General Boulanger, Colonel von Steuben, and other distinguished guests will take part. At 12:30 the supper-room will be opened and it will remain open, during the rest of the evening.

The committee announces:

The French official delegation, representing as it does, the Government of the French Republic, is entitled to precedence as between all the other distinguished guests. The Lafayettes, Rochambeaus, De Grasse, von Steubens, and other gentlemen in the list of guests of the Nation, all stand upon a different footing from the official French delegation, as they do not represent any Government or official body, but are simply invited and received by us as honored guests, by virtue of their descent from or connection with distinguished officers in the French or American Army during the Revolutionary War. The representatives of the Lafayette family are, however, properly entitled to precedence, as between the unofficial delegates, inasmuch as they are the only representatives of an officer of the Revolution, who were officially invited by a special resolution of Congress to be present, it should be remembered, not as representatives of Germany, but as the representatives of an American officer of high rank.
